

News from our Peace Region May 2019

Used equipment and field gear auction Saturday, June 8

We're selling used fish and wildlife monitoring equipment and field gear by auction on Saturday, June 8, 2019, near Fort St. John. See the full list of FWCP items being sold.

See the new Northern Spotted Owl chick on our webcam

The Northern Spotted Owl is one of Canada's most endangered species with fewer than a dozen left in the wild in British Columbia. Our FWCP Coastal Region is funding the captive breeding program near Langley in 2019-2020, and you can view the chick, that is developing fast, wherever you live through our live webcam. Check out the night viewing when there's lots of action.

FWCP is supporting wetland training in June

We're helping to advance wetland stewardship and engagement in our Peace Region by funding several wetland workshops led by the BC Wildlife Federation

(BCWF). The workshops focus on giving wetland stewardship and restoration skills to participants to increase capacity for improved conservation and protection actions for wetlands. Wetland training workshops will be held in:

- Tsay Keh Dene, June 4-5
- Fort Ware, June 6-7
- McLeod Lake, June 10-11
