

Community Engagement Grant Guidelines and application form

Background

The goal of the Community Engagement Grant is to provide small grants—up to $1,500—to support activities that align with our strategic objectives. Your group can apply for an FWCP Community Engagement Grant at any time during the year, while funds are available.

Criteria

The proposed project must:

1. Be implemented in the FWCP Coastal or Columbia Region, or in the Peace Region and its supporting communities—please contact our Peace Region manager for details. Please review the respective maps for our Coastal, Columbia, and Peace regions to ensure geographic eligibility.
2. Align with the FWCP's mission and strategic objectives to support fish and wildlife in watersheds impacted by BC Hydro dams. Please ensure that your application demonstrates how your proposed activities align with those objectives and, if applicable, highlight how they will lead to on-the-ground conservation or enhancement opportunities.

Eligible costs	Non-eligible costs
Supporting volunteer involvement (e.g., food and logistical costs such as transportation)	Wages/staff time and administration costs
Supporting workshops, meetings, and conferences that raise awareness about fish and wildlife (note: not to subsidize Individuals' attendance at such events)	Equipment (e.g., tools, monitoring equipment)
Supporting in-stream or on-the-ground conservation or enhancement activities (e.g., paying for project materials such as fencing and hardware)	Travel costs for meetings and conferences
Stewardship materials (e.g., brochures, signage, etc.)	Software
	School educational costs
	Private functions that are invitation-only
	Expenses covered by another funding source

Maximum allowable grant

- The maximum amount for a Community Engagement Grant is $1,500 per organization/fiscal year.

Who can apply

- First Nations, non-government organizations (e.g., stewardship groups), local government, and academic institutions.

If your Community Engagement Grant is approved, your group will be required to acknowledge the FWCP's contribution. More details will be provided in the approval letter. Please note that priority may be given to projects that promote and enable volunteers to work in the field over those projects that support public education or awareness events.
