Register now for one or both online grant information sessions, and read our fact sheet with helpful tips on submitting a successful grant application.

Thirty projects underway now

In 2018-2019, our Peace Region Board approved $2.1 million for 30 fish and wildlife projects. The projects underway now are helping conserve wetlands and other important habitat, and will benefit at-risk caribou, Arctic Grayling, moose, amphibians, birds, Bull Trout, and more. Read our project list and visit our interactive map.

Read our annual report and newsletter

Our Peace Region 2017-2018 Annual Report is available, and includes a financial summary and project outcomes for projects funded in the 2017-2018 fiscal year. For more information on projects across all three of our regions - Peace, Coastal, and Columbia - read our annual newsletter.

Meet us at the McLeod Lake Indian Band AGA on August 10

If you have any questions or want to meet our FWCP Peace Region Manager, Chelsea Coady, then drop by McLeod Lake Indian Band's 19th Annual General Assembly this Friday, August 10. Find out more about the projects we fund, the species we are helping conserve and enhance, and how you can apply for a grant. Learn more about our First Nations Working Group and our partnership with First Nations.

Community Engagement Grants

Remember that we have our Community Engagement Grants \(CEG\) available in our Peace Region. Contact us if you have a project idea in the works that will benefit fish and wildlife, especially if it involves volunteers. You could be eligible for up to $1,000. They are easy to apply for, with a quick turn-around.
