

Many projects we fund help restore, create, or enhance habitat for a wide range of fish and wildlife, including the at-risk purple martin. Priority actions eligible for FWCP funding are outlined in our watershed-based action plans. Photo: iStock/J. Huth

Apply now: grants available for fish and wildlife projects

Our annual grant intake is now open, and we're looking for projects to help conserve and enhance fish and wildlife in our Coastal Region. Projects eligible for a grant must align with priority actions in our Coastal Region's action plans at fwcp.ca. Read our information kit and regional grant guidance. Apply by 5 p.m., Friday, October 29.

Join First Nations, non-government organizations, stewardship groups, consultants, and others who have used FWCP grants to do important projects that benefit the region's watersheds, ecosystems, diverse and at-risk species, and vital habitats. This year, our Coastal Region board approved ~$2.4 million for 18 fish and 13 wildlife projects. Check out our 2021-2022 project list.
